Chapter 1

Rev 13:18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

Woo... Evil... Scary... We'll get to 666, but first a little preparation. Don't skip the preparation, or you may not understand.

This book is full of interconnecting information. If you miss one piece information you may not understand another, as they are interconnected. The each chapter is written with the assumption that you've read the previous chapters. There may be information you need in order to understand a chapter, included in previous chapters. For this reason, it is very important, the first time you read this book, to read it from the beginning. DON'T SKIM. You may need to read it more than once. After the first time, you can read any way you wish. This book will be difficult enough for you, without making it worse by jumping around or skimming.

Everyone knows the Bible can be interpreted to mean pretty much whatever you want it to. God knows this too. God planned it that way, to make the Bible popular. Remember, God allows you free will, so to get you to do what God needs done, God has to bait you. God has to appeal to whatever is in your hearts, even the evil in your hearts if need be, so that you, out of your own free will, will read the Bible or do whatever else God needs done. Therefore, the Bible is written to allow you to find whatever meaning you wish.

The Bible was written to save the Earth. If a few holy wars were fought in times past, due to the need to appeal to the evil hearts of men, it is justified. The Earth must be saved. The needs of the many outweigh the needs of the few. The Earth is now in dire need of saving.

Here's some simple logic for you. If there is a God, he would have a plan to save the world. God is smart enough to have known long ago the trouble we humans would get ourselves into. If God has a plan, that plan must take effect now. So the question is, do you believe in God or not? At this point, God is man's only hope for salvation.

Fear not, God does exist, as I will show you.

To help you understand the difference between what comes from Man and what comes from God, God tells the the same thing over and over in many different ways. If you see something explained in one way, chances are it is from man. If you see it explained in many different ways, like pieces of a puzzle all connected together, than it is from God.

Understanding is like a puzzle. When the pieces fit together and you see the picture, then you understand. If you miss a piece, your puzzle is not complete. If you don't start from the beginning of the book, you may be missing areas of the puzzle, which make it more difficult to fit the pieces together.

The coming of Jesus was known by many before the time of his birth. Many knew when and where he was to be born, because it was written in the scriptures. Those scriptures have been preserved in the Bible, and yet now few can find those passages which predicted the coming of Jesus.

It was seeing those predictions that helped the people understand that it truly was Jesus they had before them. 2000 years have passed, and the people have forgotten the predictions, and so they have lost their faith. For faith can only come through understanding.

You have to see it to believe it. If you haven't seen it, you don't truly believe it, and so you have no faith. You can only pretend, and pretending won't get you anywhere with God. God knows what is in your hearts, better than you do.

2000 years have passed, and the predictions of Jesus alone will no longer bring you your faith. Many have given false interpretations, so explaining the words of Jesus alone will no longer bring you your faith.

It is now necessary to show you many different passages linked together showing us the same meanings explained over and over explained to us in different ways each time, so that you know that it is not random chance, but rather that it truly is the word of God.

Even with such overwhelming evidence, most of you because of the hardness of your hearts will choose not to believe. Even when Jesus was alive and teaching you, you had no faith, so even Jesus' return would not bring you your faith.

Jesus came to teach love, and you didn't understand. I am here to show you.

I speak not of this book, for this book is just words. Jesus spoke to you in words, and you did not understand. The words are like a blue print. I am here to build that which Jesus spoke of. To build Paradise and save the World.

The churches have sought to scare you with punishment, but God knows what is in your heart, better than you do. You can not trick God, by pretending to love God out of fear, nor can you trick God out of selfish desire to go to heaven.

God is all life on Earth, therefore as Jesus tells us in Matthew 22:36-40, saving the Earth must come before saving your life, your soul, and your money. Break that commandment, and not even God can save your soul.

You must save your own soul, God can only tell you how. It is never too late to change your ways. For now though, you must learn to trust me and God's plan. Don't throw your money away or waste it on luxuries or charities which only line the pockets of the rich. Save your money, the time will come soon when you will trust me and God's plan. It may take several years, but the time will come.

Forget about reward and punishment. Does a child love its parents out of fear of punishment or desire for reward? Children just love their parents, as you must just love God.

I'm not asking you to give your money out of fear of God's vengeance or desire to go to heaven. I'm asking you to love God, as you'd love a sick parent who needs your money and support to stay alive. God is all life on Earth, and all life on Earth will soon die if we do nothing to prevent it. How much money would you give your mom or dad to keep them alive? Is God worth less than your mom or dad? Is the Earth worth less than your mom or dad?

Does a parent love his or her children only if they are good? A parent just loves his or her children. Why then do you believe that God would torture you till eternity if you are bad? God loves you, and God wants to protect you and save you. God does not want to destroy you, God wants to save you.

Man has created nuclear weapons. Man is destroying the environment. Man has created his own dependence on oil and has almost completely exhausted the supply. Man runs up national debts to the point of inevitable economic collapse. Man has driven us to the brink of World War 3, and created enough nuclear weapons to destroy the world several times over.

It is now your choice. Do you trust God or do you trust Man?

Man has never gone long without war. War is inevitable and the use of nuclear weapons is also inevitable. Man has never made powerful weapons and not used them.

To end war, we must learn love. Not just any love. Selfish love creates war. True love is not selfish. Selfishness or greed is the opposite of love.

Words are words, and you do not understand words. Jesus taught you with words and you did not understand.

If I simply tell you how to love, as Jesus did, you will not understand me, as you did not understand Jesus. You will think you know better than me.

You knew Jesus was Jesus, and yet you crucified him. You continue to crucify him in your hearts to this day, by ignoring his teachings. You think you know better than Jesus.

And yet who am I, that you should believe me when you do not believe Jesus?

Jesus showed you great signs and wonders, making the blind to see and raising the dead, and yet even with those you put not your faith in Jesus, but rather you had him crucified.

Mat 12:39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

No one is going to come healing the sick and making the blind to see. Jesus has done that. No one is going to come showing you the wrath of God to make you fear the awesome power of God as Moses and others have done. You must learn to love, not to fear God's power.

You must learn to think for yourselves. You must learn to trust and respect your thinkers, and the intelligence of all people, man, woman, and child, and all races and religions, regardless of education. You must learn to love, not fear the signs of wonders.

Those great signs and wonders of the past did not teach you to love. There was a time for great signs and wonders, but that time is past.

You did not learn to love when Moses and Jesus showed you great signs and wonders. You learned only to fear. Your preachers tell you about those signs and wonders to teach you to fear eternal damnation. God knows what is in your hearts, and fear will get you no where. Fear can only keep you apart from God.

Fear prevents children from communicating with their parents, and likewise in your relationship with God, fear prevents you from understanding God and keeps you separate from God. To be one with God, you must love God, not fear.

Jesus taught you with words, and you did not understand. Jesus and Moses and others showed you great wonders and signs, and you did not understand.

I am here to show you, to make you understand. Not with words, nor with signs, but by following the blue prints given us in the words of Jesus and examples given us by God.

I am here to build Paradise and save the World. You will understand when you see Paradise, because seeing is believing.

To gain your trust, what little I can, I will take you on a journey through the past. Just as Jesus gained your trust by the predictions of his coming in the ancient scriptures, so too, I shall gain your trust from the scriptures.

Jesus told us that God's wisdom is hidden from the wise and prudent and revealed unto babes (Matthew 11:25). Why then do you put your trust in lofty scholars and preachers who know only man's teaching?

Are man's teachings more precious than God's? Are man's universities and colleges, or the people who teach there more wise than God or Jesus? Why then do you put your trust in them? Why do you put your trust in the people who learn from them? They teach only man's knowledge, they know nothing of God's. God does not come to their classes and teach, nor do any of God's prophets.

Mat 27:1 When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death:

As you see, it was the lofty educated preachers who stirred up the people to have Jesus crucified. Those priests, as the priests of today, no nothing of God's wisdom. They know only man's teachings.

Forget about Man's teachings, that I might show you the wisdom of God.

As you might expect, God's wisdom comes with a solution to the world's problems. Would you put your faith in the lofty educated scholars and preachers who claim to know God's wisdom and yet can offer no intelligent solution to the world's problems?

They have fulfilled their purpose of remembering Jesus and the scriptures, keeping you aware at least of the existence of God, but they are men, educated in Man's wisdom. They are far from understanding God's wisdom.

It is time now to forget their teachings and put your faith in God's wisdom. Only God's wisdom can save us from the mess that man has made of his world.

God knows you are stubborn and do not want to hear the truth. By showing it in two or three or more ways, God is showing that this is meaning that God really intended for us.

In the rest of this chapter, God has given me two points to make. Each of those two points will be explained in six different ways. Not two or three, but six different ways. If you don't understand it explained one way, don't worry, there are six ways of explaining each point here, so hopefully you'll understand at least one of them.

Just like a puzzle, you need to put all the pieces together before you see the picture. This first chapter will not show you the whole picture. It will only give you a glance at what is to come. Enough that you can see that there is a picture. Either your mind is open to God's truth, or sin has closed it.

Point 1 is that Adam, David, and Christ are the same person. Why this is important you'll see later.

Rev 22:16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches.
I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

In spite of what the churches may tell you, Jesus was the offspring or lineage of David. Well, here, Jesus is saying just that. You really ought not need more, but even so, I go into more detail on that later. Obviously, that means that Jesus came after David, but we already know that. Here it also says that Jesus is the root of David, which means that Jesus came before David.

We know Jesus was the Son of God.

Joh 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Notice the words there "his only begotten Son". So if Jesus was "his only begotten Son", who was Adam?

Luk 3:38 Which was the son of Enos, which was the son of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the son of God.

Adam was also the Son of God. Are Adam and Jesus one and the same?

Psa 2:6 Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.

Psa 2:7 I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.

It would appear that whoever wrote the second psalm is also the Son of God. I don't know for sure, but I would suspect that David wrote it, 'cause it seems to fit. For one thing, it seems to be talking about a King, as David was.

Act 13:33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

Notice that "he hath raised up Jesus again", indicating that Jesus existed in the past, and also referring to the second Psalm, as if the person who wrote it was also Jesus.

So, likely we have Adam = David = Christ.

1Co 15:45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

Sounds like Paul is of the opinion that Jesus and Adam are the same person.

2Pe 3:8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

A new hope for mankind

Now let's do some simple math. 1 day = 1,000 years. 2 days = 2,000 years. 3 days = 3,000 years. Sounds simple enough, doesn't it? You might have noticed on the first page of the bible, there's 7 days, for 7,000 years of God's plan. More on that later.

One reason it seems to fit that David wrote the 2nd psalm is that the 3,000 year thing could be called the "key of David". Seems like a key that opens up the door to a whole lot of information. A big can of worms. David is the one who choose the 3,000 years. Well, actually it was 3 days the sword of the lord, but if you do the math that is 3,000 years. Christ says:

Rev 3:7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

More on that later. We all know the tale about God telling Adam:

Gen 2:17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

We also know that Adam was naughty, and he ate it. God was not lying when he said that. Adam did in fact die on that day. Not a 24 hour day, but rather a 1000 year day of the Lord. That day was 1,000 years long, and so by saying that, God was hinting that Adam would live 1000 years. Adam lived 930 years. David lived 70 years. Add those two together and you get 1,000 years exactly. Die also means two, so put the two together and you get 1000 years.

This brings us the knowledge of good and evil, as the verse says "of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil".

Gen 1:14 And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

Gen 1:15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

Gen 1:16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

Gen 1:17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

Gen 1:18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

Gen 1:19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

In the mind of a young child, as we are meant to be reading, the word "for" is the same as the number "four". Why? Because a young child doesn't read. A young child only hears "for" or "four" and they both sound the same.

Mat 11:25 At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

So we have 4 signs, and 4 seasons, and 4 days, and 0 years. If you don't like that, notice that this takes place on the fourth day. So no matter how you slice it, we have 4 days. Four days, is 4,000 years. The first page in my Bible is dated 4,004 BC, subtract 4,000 years, and you get 4 BC. In the fourth season of 4 BC Jesus Christ was born.

Mat 12:40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

After Jesus' crucifixion, Jesus was in the tomb one day and two nights. From the night before the sabbath, to the morning after the sabbath. That is one day and two nights. Yet Jesus made it very clear that it was three days and three nights. Jesus was not lying to us. Jesus was speaking of a different 3 day period. A 3 days of the Lord or 3,000 year time period. We'll go into more detail on this later.

Take that 4,000 years, subtract 930 for Adam, and 70 for David, and you get 3,000 years or 3 days. This tells us that Christ would be born when we was born. We already knew that though.

Adam, like Jonas, did the opposite of what he was told.

Mat 12:40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

There we have our 3,000 years of Jesus being in the heart of the Earth. 4,000 minus the time Adam and David were on Earth, gives us 3,000 years or 3 days of the Lord "in the heart of the Earth".

So you don't loose track of what we are taking about here, we are still on Point 1, that Adam = David = Christ. We arrived at this conclusion from 4 different directions. When the pieces fit together, the puzzle takes shape.

This chapter is only a short introduction to many of these points.

Exo 4:22 And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the LORD, Israel is my son, even my firstborn:

Exo 4:23 And I say unto thee, Let my son go, that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I will slay thy son, even thy firstborn.

It appears now we have a fourth son. In this particular case however, God is talking about the nation Israel, and seems to not be talking about the person Israel. I believe this is to link the nation of Israel, through Jesus, in a prophesy to tell us the future.

Don't be too quick to assume God is lying to us. These seeming contradictions often have a purpose, and you find out they are not really contradictions.

Our second main point therefore is about the term "Son of God" can apply either to a man or to a nation. We have both a "Son of God" man and a "Son of God" nation. Two separate things linked together in prophesy

Num 14:12 I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they.

Don't assume that God didn't mean it. This verse signifies the start of another "Son of God", across 3,000 years, to a new "Son of God". Just as happened with the "Son of God" man, so also happens with the "Son of God" nation. What happens to the man is to show us what will happen to the nation.

I'm sure you've heard of Voodoo, where you do something to a doll, and the same thing happens to the person the doll represents. This is sort of like that. God created Voodoo to give us an example, so we could understand this. God is trying to communicate to us, using a "Son of God" man to represent a "Son of God" nation.

Jesus hinted at this in his death. Remember how Jesus was in the tomb one day and two nights, suggesting about 1,500 years. What if Jesus was hinting at something that was to come in 1,500 years time. Go backward about 1,500 years and you get to that verse, with God disinheriting Israel. 1,500 plus 1,500 would make a 3,000 year time period. This leads us to the date 1513, when Ponce de Leon discovered the fountain of youth, which is another name for Jesus Christ. Discovered, as you'd expect, on Easter Sunday, same date that Jesus arose. Is all this coincidence? We'll get into more detail on this later.

With Adam, David and Christ, we had a "Son of God" man, across 3,000 years, to a new "Son of God" man. Now here, we have almost the same thing, only with nations. We have a "Son of God" nation, across 3,000 years to a new "Son of God" nation. The only difference is with the nations we have two steps instead of three.

Don't start thinking this makes the USA a wonderful place. It does not! What this does, is it makes the USA a target of prophecies and nothing more. For all you know, it could be the target of God's wrath. Read more before you start drawing conclusions.

That 3,000 year period began with God disinheriting Israel. I believe the USA now represents the Son of God. Again, that does not make the USA a good place, as you'll soon see, only the target of prophecies. The old "Son of God" nation, across 3,000 years, to the new "Son of God" nation, USA.

Now, we go back to Point 1 (Adam = David = Christ) for just a minute.

In math, we use the word result for equals. The result of one and one is two. The result of sex is a baby, which becomes a man or a woman, so the result of sex can be a man. In math, the result is displayed with an equals sign, like this sex = man or man = sex. Man is often and correctly used to refer to either male or female, as in "every man for himself" or "postman".

The number 6 is sex in some languages. In English, sex is used for six in some words, like sextant, sextuplets, etc. So now we have man = 6, so the number of a man is 6. So a man with the number 666, could be a man who was produced by sex three times. Notice that it says that "it is the number of a man", not the name of a man. So, 666 could mean Adam=David=Christ.

Of course you probably don't believe that. Maybe you don't believe what science tells us, that men are created during sex, not by "immaculate conception". If there was such a thing as "immaculate conception", why does the first chapter of Matthew trace the lineage all the way from Abraham to Jesus? These things are hidden from the wise and prudent and revealed unto babes, so we'll try it from a couple other angles.

Rev 22:16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

Already mentioned the "offspring of David", so moving on...

Here Jesus is calling himself "the bright and morning star". The "morning star" is referred to in the dictionary as Lucifer, specifically mentioning the only verse in the Bible where the word Lucifer is used.

Isa 14:12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

Sounds like a name which refers to a nation, doesn't it. Do you know of any nation which "didst weaken the nations"? A nation which draws wealth from the other nations, thereby weakening them to third world status. Sounds like the USA, doesn't it?

From dict.die.net

Morning star.

- (a) Any one of the planets (Venus, Jupiter, Mars, or Saturn) when it precedes the sun in rising, esp. Venus. Cf. Evening star, Evening.
- (b) Satan. See Lucifer.

Since he miscalled the morning star, Nor man nor fiend hath fallen so far. --Byron.

- (c) A weapon consisting of a heavy ball set with spikes, either attached to a staff or suspended from one by a chain.

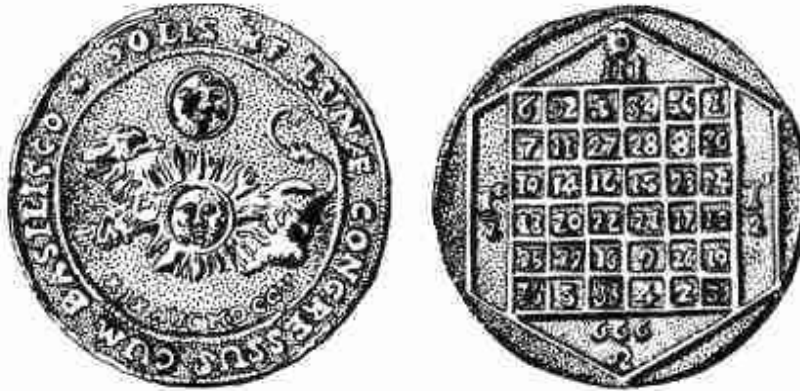

Notice that this also further shows that Christ is 666, as mentioned earlier. Let's continue on with that thought, as the churches have always told us 666, Lucifer, and Satan are one and the same.

These pictures are from the Unfolding the Revelation (Revised) by Roy Allan Anderson, who writes:

The ancients claimed that God works by mathematics. Their religion was a conglomeration of religion, astrology, alchemy, physical and mental science, and mathematics. Ancient astrology divided the starry heavens into 36 constellations. These were represented by different amulets called "Sigilla Solis," or the sun seal. These amulets were worn by the pagan priests, and they contained all the numbers from 1 to 36. By these figures they claimed to be able to foretell future events. These amulets were usually made of gold, yellow being the sun color. While being carried, these amulets were wrapped in yellow silk, as it was thought that the bearer would thus receive the beneficial powers believed to emanate from the jewel.

These drawings from photographs taken in 1910, show actual amulets then in the Berlin Museum. They reveal the veneration the ancients had for the sun-god. On the front side of No.1 we see the god of the sun standing on the lion. This indicated the sun's position in the constellation of Leo during the hot days of August. On the back is inscribed "Nachyel," meaning "intelligence of the sun," and in 36 squares are arranged the numerals 1 to 36 (see table 1) in such a way that adding the numbers of any column either horizontally or vertically, and also the two diagonals crossing the square, the total is the same- 111. The sum of the six columns, computed either horizontally or vertically, is 6 x 111, or 666.

The second illustration is also a solar seal, but it honors the star Basilisco, which was the diminutive form of the Greek basileus (king), thus meaning the same as the Latin regulus. Now, Regulus is the only first-magnitude star in the constellation of Leo. The sun and the moon are again clearly seen on this amulet, and on the reverse side is the same arrangement of numerals, with the actual figure given of the total 666.

You might notice on those pictures that the numbers are same as the numbers we use today. In Babylonian time, they didn't have numbers like that. If these amulets are real, they are not from Babylonian time.

Did this person make it all up? Could be. There's been many cases of made up fiction being passed off as facts in an attempt to sell something. Look at all the free energy crap that is going around on the Internet these days, people claiming to have perpetual motion devices, and that such devices were patented long ago. Someone profits by it, usually.

In this case, we don't know. They could be real amulets, but from some other place and time. Whether they are real or fake, they seem to fit our puzzle. God communicates to us through fiction as well as fact. This could also be God attempting to communicate with us. I sure hope you don't think everything in the Bible is factual. Science ought tell you otherwise.

Fact or fiction is not important, what matters is that it is the word of God. God is trying to communicate with us.

Notice it says the Sun God was the most important of all, and considered to be the ruler over all 36 constellations. Therefore number 666 was given to the Sun God. Interesting isn't it.

Rev 13:18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

Notice that Christ says that "it is the number of a man", not a god. Christ was a man. Christ goes by many names, and one of those is the Sun.

Mal 4:2 But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

Perhaps you think that is a typo. Could be, but remember Jesus said "thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes." Babes don't read, so since sun and son sound the same, sun means son. Jesus was called "the light of the world", "the day star", "the greater light to rule the day", etc., which further indicate that Jesus is the Sun God. Since people tend to think of Jesus as a god, that would make Jesus the Sun God.

People worship Jesus, like he's a god, they make graven images of him and bow down to them. Christ is therefore the Sun God.

Whether that was fact or fiction, it has quite interesting symbolism. Notice they both have a lion or leo, for the lion of God, you'll learn more about the lion later. The amulets, as the pagan priests believed, foretell of future events. One event in particular, which is the sacrifice that is soon to come.

Jesus did not intend for us to think the actual Babylon was evil. Even all the stuff Jesus says in Revelation about Babylon, was not about the actual Babylon. Babylon was already gone by then. God would not send Jesus to complain about the past. Jesus was telling us about the future.

Rev 17:5 And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

Babylon was gone before Jesus was born, yet Jesus talks about Babylon like it still exists. Why would Jesus make Babylon out to be so important, after it was already gone? The Bible was not written for the past, but for the future. Babylon is symbolic for something.

So, what does this mean? Why would Jesus call himself Lucifer? We know Jesus was a good guy. Adam seemed like an ok guy, what little we know of him. David didn't seem all that bad either. Jacob seemed like a fairly good guy too. So what is Jesus saying?

We have two possibilities. One, that Lucifer is actually a good guy. Two, that Lucifer is as bad as we think he is.

Lucifer is mentioned only once in the Bible. Why the strong emotional connection with the Devil, for one who is only mentioned once? Sometimes, our feelings tell us an instinctive message from God. Sometimes our fear has meaning. Not necessarily that fear is needed, but that this really is something bad.

Science tells us that the fantasy world created by the churches, where people burn in hell for eternity is complete nonsense. That does not mean that message does not come from God. I believe we have instinctive fear of Lucifer for a reason. Trust your instincts, or in this case everyone's instincts.

I believe Jesus, by calling himself Lucifer, is telling us about the United States. Jesus is the Son of God. If the Son of God is Lucifer, than the United States, which is also the Son of God is also Lucifer.

Remember when Abraham was going to sacrifice his son.

Gen 22:1 And it came to pass after these things, that God did tempt Abraham, and said unto him, Abraham: and he said, Behold, here I am.

Gen 22:2 And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

Abraham had another son Ishmael. So why would God call Isaac his "only son". God was not lying. God was telling us about something else. We call Abraham Lincoln "Father Abraham" just as the Abraham in the Bible is called "Father Abraham". Wouldn't that make the USA his son? Isaac means mockery, which basically means an imitation. Perhaps a mock or replica Son of God.

Gen 22:3 And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Isaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

Gen 22:4 Then on the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

Gen 22:5 And Abraham said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

Gen 22:6 And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

Gen 22:7 And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?

Gen 22:8 And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

Notice the "on the third day".

Abraham tells his son that God will provide a lamb for a burnt offering, but in this story it was a ram.

Gen 22:13 And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son.

God provided a ram with horns, so why did Abraham say that God would provide a lamb? Isaac knew the rule which God gave them, that it had to be a lamb. Abraham knew that it would be a lamb. God also knew. The ram was used to communicate to us, that this was not the sacrifice that God was talking about, but rather the sacrifice was to come. The sacrifice would be a lamb, as was required.

Lamb is another name for Jesus, so it kind of sounds like Abraham was hinting at a sacrifice which would come later. This sacrifice could be Jesus in any of his forms that I've mentioned earlier.

Sure, you could think it was a typo or something. Maybe you think the multiple occurrences of 3 days in the Bible are all nothing but coincidence as well. That's your choice. You are free to ignore the entire Bible if you wish. Or maybe you think that these rules about sacrificing lambs and stuff were to somehow satisfy God's lust for blood or something?

This is a sacrifice that takes place on the third day, and Jesus wasn't born until the fourth day or 4,000 years. It would appear that such a sacrifice is however scheduled for what Christian Society would call the third day, which has just begun. Christian Society didn't exist before Christ was born, so the third day for Christian Society begins at the end of 2,000 years after Christ was born, and ends 3,000 years after Christ was born. We are in that third day now.

The 3 days of pestilence thing you'll soon learn about also seems to apply to the Son of God in two forms, both human and nation forms. Maybe the sacrifice applies to the Son of God in two forms as well. Maybe the sacrifice of the man was to tell us of the sacrifice of the nation, which is to come. Or maybe you would prefer to think that Jesus just deserved to die? Of course not. Jesus died to communicate something to us, his death had meaning.

Of course the churches try to tell us that Jesus died to make God forgive us. Is a father more likely to forgive you if you kill his son?

Jesus died to communicate God's plan. Jesus died to help stop Man's sins from destroying the world, not to stop God's wrath. God loves us. God wants to save us. It is Man who is destroying the world, not God. It is Man who has nuclear weapons, not God. God is armed only with great wisdom and understanding. Only by following God's plan, can we avoid our destruction.

If a man seeks vengeance, do we call him a wise man or a fool? A wise man is an understanding man. One who understands and forgives his enemies, and loves them, as Jesus taught. Why then do we think God is vengeful? Is God a fool? Of course not. God is wise and understanding and full of forgiveness.

In books and movies, voodoo is where you take a doll which is symbolic for a person, and you do something to the doll, and the same thing happens to the person which the doll represents. This is only fiction of course, but our instincts know things that we don't consciously know. Often that instinctive knowledge comes out in our fiction. This is how God communicates with us.

Often these things inspire so much fear in us, because we instinctively know there is more to it than meets the eye.

Here we have a man, named Jesus, who is symbolic for a nation. Could a man take the place of a doll? I'm not talking about magic here, I'm talking God communicating something to us. Likely, the nation would be sacrificed with or without Jesus' death, but with Jesus' death, we are made aware of the coming events. God is trying to tell us the future, so that we can do what needs to be done.

I got the idea from a song. Often songs, movies, fairy tales, books, dreams, and even every day communication can hold little bits of God's wisdom, if our minds are open to it. Remember, our instincts know what we don't consciously know, and often our instincts influence our choice of words.

The song was sung by David Bowie, and was from the movie Labyrinth, and it goes like this:

You remind me of the babe (what babe?)
The babe with the power (what power?)
The power of voodoo (who do?)
You do (do what?)
Remind me of the babe.

Is it possible that "the babe" or Jesus, by calling himself Lucifer, and the reference to 666, was telling us that in the future America would be considered the ultimate evil?

Isa 14:12 How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

To me this sounds like an evil nation which is going to fall. Sacrificed, as Jesus was sacrificed. If the USA is symbolic of Jesus Christ, than likely, the USA is the nation being talked about here. What could be so evil, that it would justify the name Lucifer? Perhaps the use of nuclear weapons. Maybe trying to take over the world and enslave it. Who's to say? Whatever it is, we must be ready.

Don't think that God would give us all this information, and did not provide us with a solution. I have the solution. I have a plan which I believe will save us. I believe it is God's plan. A plan to create a new society. There is hope, but I need your help. I can't do it alone.

Mat 24:29 Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

Mat 24:30 And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

Notice that "then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn". Why are they mourning? Don't we want to see Jesus? We mourn when we see the enemy coming in great numbers, with a very powerful army, or perhaps air force in this case since they are "in the clouds of heaven". This is likely talking about the "Son of man" nation coming with its great and powerful army.

That is a pretty scary verse! Notice those "stars" falling from heaven. Just a thought, but a nuclear fusion bomb is quite literally a very tiny star. It gets its energy the same as stars do. Nuclear war would darken the sky, just as described in that verse.

Maybe that is just to scare us into acting. Maybe those stars falling from heaven have already fallen, as we have used nuclear weapons in the past in two cities as well as numerous tests which also included them "falling from heaven" if I'm not mistaken. Most people just don't think it'll ever happen, and just maybe God is desperately trying to scare us into action before we all die.

I am quite confident that I could prevent nuclear war by creating a new society, if I have enough time and a few million dollars, or even just a few hundred dedicated people. Maybe the time exists, maybe it doesn't. Maybe at this late stage of the game, the best I can do is reduce the bloodshed. Only time will tell.

God wouldn't have put all this effort into this, if we weren't going to survive. God knows what the outcome will be. Have faith, but also don't just sit there and do nothing!

Remember one thing. Jesus came to save us. This book is about our salvation, not our destruction. This is not about saving us from burning in hell. It is about saving us from nuclear war or global warming, or what ever else is in store for us.

Jesus really did come to save us, as this book will show you.

I strongly recommend you read this book from start to finish, do not jump around. I am trying to make sure you have all the information as you need it, but I can't do that if you jump around. You will find it hard enough to understand going from start to finish, if you jump around it'll be near impossible to understand. Also, you may want to read it several times, to help catch stuff you will miss on the first pass. You can jump around all you want on the second pass.

Some of these points may seem a little weak, but add them all together and they make a pretty strong case. 'Course you will always have the option to make excuses to disbelieve. God allows you to make excuses to disbelieve. Without the option to make false justifications or excuses for not believing, some of God's wisdom would kill you. Your mind must be able to justify the sins you have done, so God treads lightly. God does not want to kill you, God wants to save you.

The enemy has a powerful military and nuclear weapons. If the enemy believes I am sent from God, or that I am any threat to the power and money that the enemy so strongly craves, do you not think the enemy would use those weapons against us? God therefore treads lightly, allow you to choose to believe or disbelieve as you wish. The enemy will simply disbelieve, until we have grown strong.

If you are not able to deny the truth, so too the enemy will be unable to deny the truth. Signs and wonders would only help make the enemy believe. We must allow the enemy to disbelieve, until we have grown strong and they can no longer harm us.

The enemy is in all of us. Some more than others. It is therefore your choice. You may free your mind and accept it, or allow your sin to block it. If in your heart, you forgive your own sins, you will understand.

This chapter is only a tiny sample. These points are strengthened even more in the rest of this book, along with many other interconnecting points.

It is sort of like a puzzle. When the pieces fit together, you'll be able to see the picture. All these pieces interconnect, and provide us with the picture, or understanding of what God is trying to communicate with us.

This is just a sample of this book, which is still being written. Just one or two chapters away from completion and subject to change. These page numbers are based on 8.5 x 11 size, so it'll be more pages when it is in book form.
